Chris Kane, EIT Joins the RACE Team

Chris is a recent graduate of UCONN with a Civil Engineering degree and has joined the RACE Team as an Engineer. Chris has an extensive amount of waterfront experience having worked for many years as a Dock Master at Noank Shipyard and performing diving services for his family's business.

Chris' past experience in underwater construction and working as a dive tender/vessel operator will lend itself well for the inspection, structural design, regulatory and construction phase services he will be engaged in here at RACE. In addition, Chris' experience and familiarity with the waterfront will be of significant value to RACE and our Clients in the planning and design of recreational facilities.
